PLAN SECTION

NOTES

explained heart murmurs in dogs -- based on age of P, likely a congenital murmur
-- recommended cardiologist work up based on age and breed -- O does not have budget for cardio
-- explained we can start chest xrays for regular monitoring but based on age, we are unlikely to have any major changes on xray as we are asymptomatic

Options for care and monitoring

1. Cardiologist work up and then monitoring schedule based on their recommendations
2. Start chest xrays now and then recheck them every 1-2 years or if we have symptoms
3. Monitor at home for symptoms and then start xrays once symptoms appear

O feeds mostly homemade food

-- educated O on diet related heart disease and how home cooked meals can be very difficult to maintain proper nutrient levels
-- highly recommended feeding a commercial dog food sent home heart murmur packet, heart disease handout, and cardiologist list

O to talk to breeder about new finding, that he wants refund, told O that we can give him the records of what we've found and our recommendations for care but we can't help with the conversation with the breeder outside of just giving access to records
